FOR SALE.
I will sell my farm on Russell's creek, 4 1/2 miles from Columbia, containing 200 acres for a reasonable price. About 90 acres bottom land. The up land fairly good. Plenty timber, abundance of water. Two dwellings and all necessary out buildings.

Imo J. W. Morris,
Ozark, Ky.

SERIOUSLY SHOT.
Will Ross, of Irish Bottom, Cumberland county, accidentally shot himself at the Hancock Hotel, this place, last Sunday afternoon. He was alone in his room and was cleaning his revolver when it was discharged. The ball entered his right thigh, cutting the main artery, and for awhile it looked like the young man would bleed to death. Finally Drs. Gray, Taylor and Hindman got the bleeding checked, and later cut into his thigh, caught and tied the severed artery. At this writing the young man is resting easy, but serious complications may arise.

CHAPTER 68

An act creating the offices of fish and game wardens and defining the powers and duties and fixing the compensation of such officers, and for the further protection and preservation of fish, game and birds in the State of Kentucky:
Be it Enacted By The General Assembly The Commonwealth of Kentucky:

1. The officers of fish and game wardens are hereby created.

2. The county judge of each county shall appoint one or more fish and game wardens for each county in the State, who shall hold office and be subject to removal therefrom at the pleasure of the county judge. Each game warden, before entering on the duty of his office shall receive his bond to the Commonwealth, with good surety, to be approved by the county judge.

3. It shall be the duty of fish and game wardens to enforce within this State all laws relating to the protection, preservation and propagation of fish, birds and game. Each fish and game warden shall have full power to execute and serve all warrants and process of law issued for, in connection with or growing out of, the enforcement of any law relating to the protection, preservation or propagation of fish, birds and game in the same manner and to like extent that any sheriff or constable may serve and execute such process, and shall be entitled to the same fees for said services as are now allowed by law to sheriffs for similar services in criminal cases. They may arrest on sight and without warrant any person detected by them in the act of violating any such law; they shall have the same right as sheriffs to require aid in executing any process or in arresting without process any person found by them in the act of violating any of said laws; and they shall have authority to seize without process, and birds, fish or game then found in the possession of any such person, together with his guns, nets, seines, traps or other devices, and forthwith convey such offender before a court or magistrate, having jurisdiction of the offense, and such court or magistrate shall, upon the filing by the warden of a proper complaint, proceed to try and determine the truth of the charge.

4. After payment of the percentage of fines allowed by law to other public officers, the remainder shall go to the fish and game warden instituting the prosecution, and upon filing a verified claim with the auditor, he shall draw his warrant upon the Treasurer in favor of such fish and game warden.

Approved March 21, 1904.

Judge Paynter, of the Appellate Court, in dissolving the injunction restraining the operation of the Covington poolrooms, says that courts of equity have no jurisdiction to restrain the commission of crimes, nor to enforce moral obligations, and when they seek to do such it is a clear usurpation of the jurisdiction of the criminal court.

A prominent Texas political candidate is named Olson. They think down there that he will add strength to any ticket.

SERIOUS QUESTIONS

The great number of members a lodge can obtain does of necessity make the most useful. I fear, even at this time, more danger of some of our lodges breaking down from having too many than from too small a number of members. Let me also remind you that Ancient Craft Masonry begins with the Entered Apprentice degree and ends with the Royal Arch degree, and that so much of Masonry is pure and perfect, venerable with antiquity, hoary with age. Beyond this all is modern, new and ornamental, adding nothing to its strength and grandeur, and may serve to subtract something from its simple and austere beauty.

Masonry needs nothing now, for her ritual is simple, impressive, unique and sublime, her incantations are truths—immortal truths, with an adaptability to our race that no exist until wrong is banished from the world and virtue reinstated on her ancient throne—until suffering has no more to relieve and sorrow no tear to dry.

Let no humble brother of the blue lodge distrust the fact that all of Masonry is contained in the three ancient degrees with the instructions of the Royal Arch, nor let him become envious of those who claim to be his superior in Masonic knowledge because they have added to their names the appellation of some presiding officer in the so-called higher bodies. When these titles appear in public print they are only calculated to make the vulgar, and with the right feeling, sensible Mason or man of the world excite derision and contempt.

Are we making too many members of lodges and too few Masons? Complaints from this evil comes all around us. We have heard it in the past. It assails our ears in the present. Are we endeavoring to make Masonry popular?

Do you think more of the fees for the degrees than of the good of Masonry?

These are questions for serious consideration. The remedy, "a more unspurious use of the black ball," is every Master Mason's prerogative—Grand Master Tennis, Pennsylvania.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

Democrats of Adair county met at the court-house last Saturday afternoon and after electing N. M. Tutt Chairman and J. E. Murrell Secretary, the following resolutions, offered by Jas. Garnett, Jr., were adopted:

1. It is resolved that we approve the call for this convention and the convention to be held in Somerset August 25, 1904, to nominate a Democratic candidate for Congress.

2. That we heartily endorse the National Democratic platform adopted at St. Louis, and we endorse the nominees, Parker for President and Davis for Vice President, who are a platform in themselves.

3. We condemn fraud and rascality and pray for deliverance from the hands of those who are now practicing the art in the 11th district of Ky.

4. That Noah Loy, M. T. Mercer, H. B. Simpson, John D. Lowe, S. H. Murrell, Bramlette Abrell, Porter A. Murrell, Gordon Montgomery, R. L. Campbell, C. S. Harris, Judge James Garnett, Col. E. Butler, J. W. Sublett, Dr. S. P. Miller, W. B. Rowe, W. M. Wilmore, Zach Campbell and all other Democrats of Adair county be and they are appointed delegates to attend the convention to be held at Somerset Aug. 25, 1904, and they will cast the vote of Adair county for Hon. C. W. Metcalf, of Bell Co., for the nomination for Congress in this district, and will vote on all questions that may come before said convention, in connection with his nomination, as said Metcalf may request. In the event no Democrats from Adair county attend said convention, H. S. Robinson and J. T. Horn are directed to act as proxies and cast the vote of Adair county as herein directed.

SOURCE OF JAPANESE VIGOR.
The Japanese are allowed to be among the very strongest people on earth. They are strong mentally and physically, and yet practically they eat no meat at all. The diet which enables them to develop such hardy frames and such well-balanced and sane brains consists almost wholly of rice, steamed or boiled, while the better-to-do add to this Spartan fare fish, eggs, vegetables and fruit. For beverages they use weak tea, without sugar or milk and pure water, alcoholic stimulants being but rarely indulged in. Water is imbibed in what we should consider prodigious quantities. To a Englishman, indeed, the drinking of so much water would be regarded as madness. The average Japanese individual swallows about a gallon daily divided doses.

The Japanese recognize the beneficial effect of flushing the system through the medium of the kidneys, and they also cleanse the exterior of their bodies to an extent undreamed of in Europe or in America.

Another—perhaps this is the usage on which the Japanese lay the greatest stress—is that deep, habitual, forcible expiration of fresh air is so essential for the acquisition of strength and this method is sedulously practiced until it becomes a part of their nature.—From The Medical Record.

Ed Lyon, of Augusta, Ga., will be at the Fair to buy horses and mules.

MINERAL WATER.

It has been Recently Found on the Farm of J. C. Morrison, Taylor County.

This well is on the Campbellville and Greensburg pike, five miles from the former place and seven from the latter. The well is 88 feet deep and the water is as cold as a person would want it. It is situated on Mr. J. C. Morrison's place, who is making preparations to take a few boarders.

The following gives a full explanation:

Agricultural Experiment Station, State College of Kentucky, Lexington, Ky., July 30, 1904.

14,554.—Mineral water sent by J. C. Morrison, Campbellville, Taylor county, Ky., July 18, 1904. The sample was received July 20, 1904, in pint bottle. The water smelled strongly of hydrogen sulphide and there was a deposit of sulphur in the bottle.

ANALYSIS.
The water contains 320.9 grains of solid matter to the gallon, composed mainly of chlorides and sulphates of sodium, calcium and magnesium, some calcium carbonate and traces of iron, potassium and lithium compounds and a trace of borates. The water contained also a very considerable quantity of hydrogen sulphide. Is very good saline sulphur water.

OVERREACHED.

President H. Capen, of Tufts College, was talking to a little group of undergraduates about the wisdom of economy.

"But while economy is wise," he said, "to be mean or niggardly is the height of foolishness. The niggardly man is nearly always overreached. It is like—"

Here Dr. Capen smiled.

"It is like," he resumed, "the story of the miser and the mouthful of water."

"This miser had a cask of wine in his cellar, and every evening he would send down his man to fetch him up a pitcher. To keep the man from drinking any of the wine he would make him fill his mouth with water before he left the room. Then on his return the man would have to prove that the water still remained in his mouth, and thus the miser would be convinced that none of the wine had been stolen."

"This scheme seems ingenious, and yet the servant with the greatest ease overreached his master. He kept a pitcher of water hidden in the cellar, and, cupping his mouth on his descent, he would drink all the wine he desired, and upon his return upstairs would still have a full mouth to show the unsuspecting master."

John Rhea is out of the race for Congress, and Jim Richardson is right in the midst of it. If faithful party service, breadth of brain and fitness for the place count for anything in a selection of a candidate, Richardson will win in a walk.—Horse Cave Gazette.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

For Circuit Judge.

We are authorized to announce that Hon. J. H. THURMAN, of Washington county, is a candidate for Circuit Judge in the district comprising the counties of Green, Taylor, Marion and Washington, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

A majority of the Chairmen, eleven in number, of the Eleventh Congressional district met at Middleboro last week, disobeying an injunction issued by Circuit Judge Cook Faulkner, and gave a certificate of nomination for Congress to Dr. W. Godfrey Hunter. The Edwards forces claim that the action of the eleven committeemen is nothing more nor less than robbery, as the certified returns sent in by all the county clerks in the district clearly show that Edwards received a majority of 1,146 votes. Legal proceedings were to come before Judge Faulkner at Barbourville yesterday (Tuesday) at which time Edwards followers hoped to have the action of the majority of the committee annulled. The situation is not at all satisfactory and at this writing there is no telling which of the two, Edwards or Hunter will get his name under the log cabin. The committeemen who gave the certificate to Hunter say that he received 191 majority on the face of the returns. It is no fight of ours, and we give the situation as we understand it. The Republican party, in this district, is strong enough to purge itself from corrupt methods if there is really and truly a desire, but whether this is the case or not, or whether the emoluments of office are, regardless of methods, the actuating motives, we are unable to determine. It seems to us that to present political tendencies are away from the golden rule. Elsewhere in this issue appears an interview of Mr. Yarberry and also a statement made to the Louisville Post, from a Middleboro man, giving the other side, and from them we infer that not all the sinners are on one side nor all the political saints on the other. It seems to be a mixed affair as well as an unfortunate one for the political party that has fought for "Civil Liberty" in the past and whose orators have orated over Democratic mistakes. It is their sin, their mistake and their responsibility.

Hon. W. J. Bryan will speak for Parker and Davis during the campaign. He will have five appointments in Indiana. He possesses more magnetism to-day than any other public man. The Republican party was very much in hopes that he would bolt the Democratic National Convention, but when he announced that he would support and do all he could to elect the ticket, its feathers fell. Every man has his influence, and an individual who has received over 6,000,000 votes for the Presidency is no small factor by long odds.

MR. YARBERRY INTERVIEWED

A News reporter interviewed Mr. M. R. Yarberry, committeeman from this county concerning the counting of the official returns of the vote of their certificate of nomination to Dr. Hunter in Middleboro last Wednesday. Mr. Yarberry states: "I was warned at Junction City, while on my way to London, that a Hunter man would be in danger in that town and was advised not to stop there. In the face of these facts and conditions I arrived there at 2 a. m., Tuesday. Before I left my bed chamber in the Catching Hotel, that morning, I was notified that we had better act right that day or suffer the consequences. After breakfast, while on the street, I was notified that a rope awaited me if Edwards failed to get the certificate. Other threats were also made and I was advised to get out of town on first opportunity. I caught a train in the direction of Louisville, went to Pittsburg where I passed under an assumed name. I was there notified by wire by a personal friend not to be seen while passing through London. I took his advice and locked myself in the colored people's coach, while going through that town.

"In Bell county the County Chairman refused to certify until complete returns were in from all the precincts, there being 3 or 4 unreported, Edwards secured a mandamus and compelled him to certify which gave Edwards a majority of 330. This mandamus was dissolved by the Court of Appeals and the complete returns showed Hunter a majority of 792. In Harlan county the ballots were stolen from a strong Hunter precinct, supposed to have been done by a party who since committed suicide. The voters of that precinct registered each voter the old way, which gave Hunter a majority of 80. In this precinct two of the officers were for Hunter and two for Edwards, and they certified to the returns in the regular way. We counted this majority as it was cast. In Letcher county Edwards claimed 120 majority while the official returns gave Hunter 16 majority. The Chairman of the county being present and certifying to its correctness. There were various claims of fraud by both sides, but no technical errors were considered. We did not investigate any claims of fraud, as our duty was simply ministerial, merely to canvass the complete returns and issue a certificate of nomination to the party who had received the most votes on the face of the official returns. I submit the counties with their respective majorities, and have no apology to offer, for the discharge of my duty, to any one.

For Edwards:

Adair	.....	77
Casey	.....	147
Clinton	.....	365
Harlan	.....	229
Larzel	.....	1,003
Leslie	.....	538
Osway	.....	293
Perry	.....	217
Whitley	.....	448
Total	.....	13,905

For Hunter:

Bell	.....	792
Clinton	.....	444
Cumberland	.....	123
Jackson	.....	85
Knox	.....	164
Letcher	.....	16
Monroe	.....	965
Pulaski	.....	380
Russell	.....	194
Wayne	.....	428
Total	.....	14,126
Edwards vote	.....	13,905
Hunter's majority	.....	191

If the precinct in Harlan should be left out, Hunter would still have a majority of 111. "My reason for disobeying the order of the Laurel County Circuit Court Clerk, restraining the count, was that the Court of Appeals have repeatedly held that the courts have no jurisdiction in such cases, but a matter to be settled by the party authorities."

THE OTHER SIDE.

Evening Post Special Service.

PINEVILLE, Ky., Aug. 20.—The committee has given a certificate to Dr. Hunter, and the act stands out as the most brazen, the most bare-faced, the most outrageous steal known in the political history of Kentucky. Just what led to the steal will be ferreted out, and the methods by which an adverse majority of 1,144 can be changed to a majority for Hunter of 191, will be shown to the world.

At Bennett's Fork, where Belknap got 29 votes and Beckham 7, Hunter is given 965 majority. In the Yellow Hill precinct one of the officers of election a Hunter man, said, after the polls closed: "I had an uphill fight. We couldn't get the vote out, but I got 22 of the 26 votes for Hunter." The committee reports 478 for Hunter and 4 for Edwards. By what peculiar legendism this can be done an anxious public would like to know.

All this howl about fraud in Harlan county is a mere subterfuge to hide the doings at Bennett's Fork and Yellow Hill.

It is reported that the ballot boxes for both of these precincts were "fixed" at the Winona Club rooms in Middleboro. Now the question is, are the Republicans of the Eleventh district going to submit? We think not. It is said Hunter spent $25,000 in the primary, and I am satisfied it will cost him $25,000 more before he reaches Congress. I am inclined to think some of these "election fixers" will board at the expense of the State in the near future.

J. C. J.

Everything is moving along nicely in Democratic circles. An agreement has been reached by the party leaders of New York relative to the conduct of the campaign. The National Committee is not to interfere with State Committee, and neither Committee is to interfere with the regular Democratic organization of New York. The Democrats of the Empire State are out to carry their Commonwealth and they believe they will be successful.

To-morrow the 25th, the Democrats of the Eleventh district will meet at Somerset and nominate a candidate for Congress. There are a number of gentlemen spoken of, but Hon. C. W. Metcalf, of Bell county, is the only man who has signified a willingness to accept, and he will, in all probability be nominated. He lives in the mountains and is fully equipped to make a strong race. Adair's vote will be cast for him.

Hon. Henry G. Davis was formally notified of his nomination for the Vice-Presidency last Thursday. Hon. John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, made the announcement in a speech requiring an hour. Mr. Davis responded in a short and pointed talk. The gathering was at White Sulphur Springs, W. V., and several hundred enthusiastic Democrats were present.

Paul Reed and Will Cato, two negro men, were burned to death at a stake in Statesboro, Ga., last Wednesday. They were charged with murdering a white family, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Hodges and their three children. Reed confessed, but Cato claimed that he was innocent. Reed said just before the torch was applied that Henry Bell murdered the children and that he was the murderer of their parents. It was a horrible crime, but the law could have been vindicated without inflicting inhuman punishment.

The Japanese have made a demand for the surrender of Port Arthur, and the latest bulletin from the scene of war say it has met with a refusal. The docks at the besieged city have been set on fire by Japanese shells and several houses have been destroyed by the flames. Rains are interfering again with the Manchurian land campaign, but the Japanese forces are said to be making another advance and driving back the Russian outposts.

Hon. Harvey Helm, of Lincoln county, has withdrawn from the race for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Eighth district. Mr. Gilbert, of Shelby, and Mr. Moore, of Mercer, were the only candidates before the primary. Mr. Gilbert is the present incumbent and Mr. Moore is a banker and large land owner. The race for the nomination promises to be very interesting.

CLOSING OUT.

ALL SUMMER GOODS AT COST FOR CASH OR COUNTRY PRODUCE.

For the next 30 days I will sell all Summer goods at cost and in many cases less than wholesale prices.

A nice lot of thin Summer lawns and wash goods. A big lot of lace and Hamburg Embroidery, dirt cheap. Big lot of sample shoes and slippers at about 50 cents on the dollar. Prices on Summer clothing reduced to make them go at once. A big bargain in straw hats in order to close them out before winter. All the above named goods I will sell at surprisingly low prices for the cash or produce. Come before they are gone. Come early and get the pick of the lot. I sell CURRIE FERTILIZER, and have a fresh carload coming. If you are going to use any Fertilizer this Fall it will pay you to see me before you buy.

Respectfully,

J. J. HUNTER.

Born, to the wife of C. E. Royce, on the 19th, a daughter.

Drivers should handle their reins cautiously during the Fair.

If you don't have a good time at the fair it will be your fault.

Crops of all kinds are more bountiful than for twenty years in the past.

Some narrow escapes have recently been made in watermelon patches.

Born, to the wife of Price Vanarsdale, Jeffersonville, one day last week, a son.

Watermelons weighing twenty pounds are selling for 10 cents. The crop is very large.

McFarland and Patterson, contractors, have commenced work on Mr. Jno. D. D. Lowe's residence.

The News force, desiring to attend the Fair, get out the paper this week one day ahead of time.

Visitors are here from all adjoining towns and Columbians are doing their best to make them feel at home.

Tilden Burton, charged with a breach of peace, was fined one cent and the cost in Judge Murrell's court last week.

Sam Lewis says his produce business is increasing. He says he has bought more chickens this season than ever before.

Strangers have begun to arrive and on Wednesday night the hotels and boarding-houses will be well-filled with people who will be here to attend the Fair.

IT IS ALARMING.

EDITOR NEWS:

The abuse of the ballot in elections is so appalling that many people feel considerable distrust, as to the perpetuity of our glorious form of Government. The fact that men are purchased at the polls as merchandise is just cause for patriotic citizens to tremble for the safety of their country. It is an admitted fact that the purchasable vote of our country is increasing to an alarming extent, and unless something is done to check this evil, it will result in a state of anarchy which may engulf all into the whirlpool of corruption. The secret ballot was adopted with the thought that it would, to some extent, purify elections, but that it has proven a lamentable failure most people will concede to be true.

Under the secret ballot men of fair reputations can, and do sell their votes with perfect impunity, and the secrecy shields them from the contempt of the public. The question may be asked, is there any moral agency that gives encouragement indirectly to this great cherishing answer.

Let the pastors of the different churches answer.

Is it not a fact that at the last general election for county officers of Adair county that all the candidates for office were required and did contribute to the campaign fund for the purpose of buying voters, and also whisky to delude the voters, that they might be more easily controlled. Some of these candidates were members of churches, and churches were the followers of the great sin of rags to a terrapin, set their affections and the terrapin moves forward into the die. The fox never fails to come to the front where he is disguised as a dove. A wire is attached to the shell of the terrapin and is withdrawn from the hole as soon as the fox is killed. We failed to get the gentleman's name, but this is given as a fact.

Mr. Robt. W. Miller, formerly of this place, a son of Mrs. Lou Miller, was married Tuesday, August 9th, to Miss Abbie Elma Benson, St. Cloud, Minn. Mr. Miller has been in business in St. Cloud for several years, and is quite popular throughout the city. Mrs. Miller springs from an excellent family and her friends are numerous. All of Bob's Columbia friends were glad to hear of the union, trusting that he may live happily the remainder of his days.

THEY ARE COMING.

LOUISVILLE, KY., Aug. 16, '04.

C. S. HARRIS, Sec'y Fair.

DEAR SIR:

This is to inform you that we expect to arrive at Columbia in a few days for the purpose of attending the Columbia Fair and should you need our services, we would be glad to have our former positions, namely, City Ticket Agent and Assistant Secretary.

We have seen Esau and he still "eats em' alive" and will, no doubt, be at the Fair. Gen. Castleton, owing to the K. P. encampment here this week, will not arrive with his string before Monday and possibly not before Tuesday at noon. The Mayor expresses the hope that the Fair will be a success. The Hon. Henry Watterson would make a complimentary ticket. A great many of the K. P.'s talk like they may take in the Fair before returning to their homes. We predict a very successful year for the Association.

Very truly,

JOHN W. FLOWERS.

H. FRANK HILL.

A NOVEL FOX SCARE.

We are informed that a citizen of Big Creek, this county, rarely ever fails in securing a fox when a den is found. The aforesaid gentleman tied a bunch of rags to a terrapin, set their affections and the terrapin moves forward into the die. The fox never fails to come to the front where he is disguised as a dove. A wire is attached to the shell of the terrapin and is withdrawn from the hole as soon as the fox is killed. We failed to get the gentleman's name, but this is given as a fact.

PRICE OF LUMBER.

An advance of 50 cents a thousand feet on the common grades, and from $1 to $2 on the finished grades has been the price of yellow pine.

The lumber market shows signs of strength all along the line, with the exception of poplar, which is still suffering from the ill-advised attempt of the manufacturers last fall to increase the price $9 on the thousand feet. It has been found impossible to maintain this advanced price and the trade has suffered in the attempt.

All the oak are holding firm, and are expected to advance. The many new office buildings now being erected have caused a great demand for oak for all the interior finishings and firsts and seconds of the quarter-sawn sawed are now selling at $75 f. o. b. at Ohio river points.

The plain sawed oak is steadily advancing, and while it is now selling at $40 per thousand, it is expected to reach $50, when it will be where lumbermen claim it should be at two-thirds the price of quarter-sawn sawed stock—Ohio State Journal.

There are the best of reasons for the belief that Judge Parker's speech of acceptance has not pleased all the republican organs. They have not reached an agreement as to the grounds upon which to base the criticism, but they are criticizing it all the same.

LET'S AWAKE

The Democratic party has at last settled down to common sense and to the business of fighting the worst, most imperialistic enemy the common people ever had, the Republican party. If four more years pass by with the Republican party in power, and Roosevelt in command of that party, the difference between the rights of the citizen in America and the oppression of the subject in Russia will not be worth mentioning. In the last eight years there has not been a tradition that the people held sacred which has not been treated with the utmost contempt, nor a foundation stone upon which our fathers built that has not been shaken. The people must either arouse themselves to the fact that it was for the nation the government was instituted to be a servant and a service for them from generation to generation to the end of time, or find that the nation is treated as the merest means by which the government may serve its end. At the rate we have traveled these last ten years, another decade will see the nation brought to nothing; a citizenship degraded; and a people in whom all power lives and is and has its being, gapping with open mouth wonder at the power and pomp and glitter of office. There was a time when it was better to be a Roman than to be a King, there will never be a time when it is not better to be an American citizen, worthy to rest both feet on the foundation of our government—the rights of man—as enunciated by the Declaration of Independence, than to have been or disgraced the earth. Let the Democrats arouse themselves or the rights of the people are gone and the nation becomes the unclean slave of the vilest master—the slavery of a people to their own government—Hart County Democrat.

SANTOS-DUMONT'S LUNATIC
Santos-Dumont was discussing with a reporter the charge that he had mutilated his own airship at St. Louis.

"Why should I have done that?" he said. "Either I was crazy to have done it, or I was crazy who charged me with doing it. The whole thing reminds me of the lunatic who had happened before a lunatic asylum."

"A lunatic!" continued the aeronaut, "leaving over the faces of the asylum grounds, watching a repair job that was going on. Finally he took the pipe from his mouth, blew a fragrant cloud of smoke into the air, and said with languid interest to the middle-aged man who was digging a hole with a spade in the hard, stony soil:

"What wages do you get, friend?"

"Six dollars a week," said the laborer, and he unknotted the red handkerchief that encircled his neck, and wiped the sweat from his face.

"Are you married?" continued the lunatic.

"I am," said the laborer, "and I am the father of eleven children besides."

The lunatic, puffing his pipe, mused a little while, then said:

"I'm thinking, friend, you're on the wrong side of the fence."

American workmen will begin to view with envy the pictures of foreign workmen who are able to have meat on their tables twice a week. In the good old days—these are behind us; now it is the millionaire who is able to have a beefsteak.

OBITUARY.

On Sunday, the 7th inst., about the hour of 4 o'clock, the death of Judge Parker, known to the National Democratic Convention and not Theodore Roosevelt, the first citizen of the Republic, as the nominee of the Republican party for the chief magistracy of this country, claimed and rightly given a large share of interest and attention until he had made his speech of acceptance and debated the views by which he may be expected to guide his course for the next four years should he be chosen to office. That speech has been made. Judged without prejudice, the people have discovered that it was composed, first, of petty boasting of personal achievements; second, of easily disproven deductions and willful misstatements of accomplished facts; third, of a personal attack on an opposing political party. In short, it was the speech of a politician, with all of a politician's fear of the truth.

To-day, the people turn with eagerness to hear at length from the man who in a message of forty words commanded their unreserved admiration and unqualified respect. If there be any who feared that Judge Parker would in his speech of acceptance weaken the impression created by his message, they have but to read it to find how groundless were those fears; if there were any who hoped that his lack of courage would detract from the effect produced by his first magnificent exhibition of courage, they are doomed to disappointment. The speech is not that of a politician, but of a statesman. It calls the Republican party to answer for no crime that is passed. It points out the danger which threatens the country if its course of power is continued and pledges the Democratic party to a performance of its duties, not to itself, but to a nation, if its cause is successful.

Judge Parker speaks not as a Democrat, but as an American. He seeks not to make political capital out of an occasion which comes to him freighted with supreme responsibility. There is no mistaking his meaning, no mistaking his purpose—the principles for which he declares are those to which he has given the allegiance of his personal belief and private conscience. That he holds to them in accord with, and not in spite of, his party holds out the strongest argument for belief in their practical application to immediate need—should his cause meet with success.

Finally, he does what no other candidate for the presidency has ever done, in declaring that he seeks but one term of office on the belief that "no incumbent of that office should ever be placed in a situation of possible temptation to consider what the effect of action taken by him in an administrative matter of great importance might have upon his political fortunes."

The people have waited long for such a man. They are now to choose between him and his antithesis. There can and there will be but one answer at the polls to November next—Alton B. Parker, President of the United States of America—Louisville Times.

OUR NEXT PRESIDENT.

From the hour that Judge Parker's telegram was first made known to the National Democratic Convention and not Theodore Roosevelt, the first citizen of the Republic, as the nominee of the Republican party for the chief magistracy of this country, claimed and rightly given a large share of interest and attention until he had made his speech of acceptance and debated the views by which he may be expected to guide his course for the next four years should he be chosen to office. # THE TURNING OF THE TIDE

A short time ago a very great many good people—let us say people—had some sort of notion that Roosevelt's success was just as good as assured. But they have suffered a severe jar. Mr. Roosevelt has been lucky and that is all. Those who are called lucky are generally erratic individuals that take chances and jump at conclusions. The luck of such people never lasts, for when their luck turns they get rattled and three wisdom, if they are necessary, to the winds. President Roosevelt has been lucky, but it has been the luck of the gambler who takes desperate chances and is sure to meet reverses when everything looks brightest for winning. Before the Democratic National Convention met the Roosevelt luck was at high water mark. In spite of all the efforts of the Republican campaign platform he had been nominated by acclamation, had debated the platform and felt sure of his election that he selected an inexperienced manager of his campaign against the protest of the wisest leaders of the Republican party. Since the nomination of Judge Parker the Roosevelt luck has sunk and fortune has sought another to lavish her favors upon.

The re-election of Roosevelt began when the star of Judge Parker appeared on the national horizon. He at once became the central national figure—a man who could be looked upon to do the right thing at the right time. The fusion knight Roosevelt, who had inflamed the hearts of his followers with questionable bombast from St. James Hill, who had said "seems and seems," the cowboy and the ranch rider, sank into insignificance when the real civic hero appeared. When President Roosevelt refused to receive the deputation of miners his good fortune had deserved him, a cranky split possesses him. And now we have the New York Post saying:

"One reason why Republicans begin to fear that 'Roosevelt luck' is waning is undoubtedly their perception of the awkwardness of his speech suddenly to appear as an expelled hero. They never dreamed of this. Why, it almost looks as if they had unconsciously drawn their own platform to fit Judge Parker. They held up a candle with a 'clear head and brave heart, ready for every emergency'?"

How any possibility could those words be used of the unexpected Democratic nominee—a mere Judge, who had never uttered a word? Yet the provoking man, quietly displayed before the country a really courage in a great crisis, which instantly made Roosevelt's light burn dim, and caused the nation to acclaim Judge Parker as its foremost political figure.

But let us make another question. "There is a most important aspect to all this. It means much for our national ideal. We are all law-abiding, whether we want to be or not. We have half set, before us again the great civic virtue, home bred and nurtured in peace. It is only by cherishing and elevating to them and honoring them that a nation can pass on the lamp of progress—Indiana's Sentinel.

Roosevelt as President is in some degree an accident. But if he remains in office four more years he will pass out with the rapid question still unsolved, and further from amicable settlement than when he first disturbed it. He is but an incident, an accident, a factor of but temporary duration. Not so with the race question. The negro was here before him and will remain here after him. There abides also the white man, the negro's superior, and his master in governmental matters. And such master he will ever be peacefully if he can, otherwise if he must.—Sunset Journal.
